NET can also offer the Encouraging Positive Interactions resource. ○ A key NET practice is to develop projects in which a scan and analysis occurs to identify factors impacting citizen’s safety. Teams then develop and implement a response alongside relevant stakeholders which is later assessed for impact. Known as SARA projects, they are informed by stakeholders and community concerns. Due to an increased likelihood for public safety concerns within hospitality areas, NET could support addressing these concerns via the SARA process. ○ NET works closely with, and sits on the Steering Committee for, the YEG Ambassadors whose focus is supporting the economic development and safety of smaller BIAs. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● The City of Edmonton is a member City of the United Nations Women’s Safe Cities and Public Spaces Global Initiative. As a Safe City, we are committed to innovative approaches to preventing and addressing sexual violence for women and girls in public spaces. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ To date efforts have included the development and distribution of coasters on consent to night time economy establishments, and advancing recommendations to enhance safety in public spaces such as public transit, taxis and ride-sharing services. |

| Edmonton Transit Service(ETS) | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● After reflecting input from over 40,000 Edmontonians and consultation with BIAs, ETS began to operate a new bus network in 2021. The network includes: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ ETS is one of five cities in Canada that operates frequent bus service on major corridors in the central part of the city at frequencies of 15 minutes or better. Frequent bus service operates until 3 AM at minimum frequencies of 30 minutes. ○ ETS operates LRT, crosstown routes , and local routes that until at least midnight ○ ETS operates on demand service and community routes to provide people access to the rest of the transit network ● After consultation with BIAs, ETS began to operate a shuttle along Stony Plain Road to support accessibility for residents and business access during construction of Valley Line West. ● Administration partnered with BIAs, local businesses and community groups to collaborate on a summer 2022 transit ridership campaign, encouraging more visitors and transit use to connect with events and businesses. Transit ridership is recovering, with two-thirds of normal levels. Transit connects people to employment, training, childcare, healthcare, social and recreational opportunities, and helps with downtown vibrancy and economic recovery. ● Safety and security on public transit is of highest importance for ETS. City Administration works closely with the Edmonton Police Service to conduct patrols to support transit riders. ● In 2021, the City launched the Community Outreach Transit Team (COTT) that partners with Bent Arrow Outreach Workers with the aim of building relationships and connecting individuals in the transit system to specialized community services to increase safety and reduce harm. In February 2022, COTT funding was expanded to increase the number of teams and extend the work into 2025. ● In addition to the COTT program, ETS continues to deliver a safe transit experience with: |
