Kisêwâtisiwin ᑭᓴᓴᓴᓴᓴᓴ Park

The Naming Committee approved the naming of a park within the Alberta Avenue Neighbourhood as Kisêwâtisiwin ᑭᓴᓴᓴᓴᓴᓴ Park. The naming also applies to smaller parks and walkways between 90 Street and 95 Street along 121 Avenue. The naming of these sites and the overall concept of the project will help remember missing, murdered, and exploited Indigenous people (MMEIP), and highlight the need for substantive equality for all Indigenous people. The name Kisêwâtisiwin ᑭᓴᓴᓴᓴᓴᓴ [ki-se-wât-si-win] is a Cree term which speaks to how one strives to apply the principles of gentle, loving kindness into all areas of life.

Pride Corner

The Naming Committee approved the request to apply the honorary name of Pride Corner at 82 Avenue (Whyte Ave) & 104 Street as a location to recognize and encourage a safe space to support the LGBTQIA2S+ community and protest against homophobia and hate. It is important to celebrate and support the City of Edmonton’s equality and diversity, while recognizing that more work needs to be done. The new Pride Corner signs located at the intersection integrate elements of the Pride flag and features a dancing person & a two spirit symbol.

Mistâpos ᓄᓴᓴᓴᓴᓴ Park

The Naming Committee approved the naming of a park within the Prince Rupert Neighbourhood as Mistâpos ᓄᓴᓴᓴᓴᓴ Park. The naming of the park utilizing an Indigenous term continues the Naming Committee’s focus of naming municipal assets that recognize and commemorate partnerships with Indigenous communities, local Indigenous histories, and the flora, fauna and natural features of the community. Mistâpos ᓄᓴᓴᓴᓴᓴ [mees-ta-poos] is a Plains Cree term meaning White-tailed Jackrabbit. The name was gifted by the Indigenous community to recognize the abundance of white-tailed Jackrabbits in the area.
