Here is a brief public introduction as provided by the appointees:

Samuel (Sam) Afolayan

Subdivision and Development Appeal Board

Dr. Sam Afolayan is a planner and architect with over 20 years' experience in municipal planning and construction management. He is a registered member of the Canadian Institute of Planners. He currently manages his consulting company that focuses on municipal long range and current planning locally and internationally. He holds a Bachelor and Master of Architecture degrees from the University of Ife (Nigeria), Master of Urban and Rural Planning from Dalhousie University, and Doctor of Philosophy in Urban Design from the University of Manitoba.

While in active service, he worked with the Mackenzie Municipal Services Agency (Executive Director: 2001-2003); Red Deer County (Planning Manager: 2008-2011); City of Medicine Hat (Planning & Development Manager: 2011-2012); Leduc County: 2013-2014); and City of Lloydminster (General Manager: 2016-2020). He retired from active planning service in October 2020. Dr. Afolayan has been a member of several municipal planning boards, while working with several municipalities in Alberta. He is acclaimed as a thorough, professionally astute and objective participant and leader of the various committees and boards that he participated in as Municipal representative.

Guy Boston

Subdivision and Development Appeal Board

A resident of Edmonton since 1984, Guy has been involved in many aspects of the growth of the City over the past four decades. Recently retired, Guy spent the vast majority of his career in the public sector with two Capital Region municipalities (including Edmonton) where he was responsible for a vast array of services that included Planning and Development, Public Works, Engineering, Environment, Transit and Economic Development. Guy is married with two adult children and four grandchildren who are all residents in the City of Edmonton. It is with this family legacy in mind that he is passionate about contributing to the sustainable growth of Edmonton for future generations to come.

Brian Carbol

Subdivision and Development Appeal Board

Brian Carbol is a retired Alberta educator having served as a teacher, secondary school principal and associate superintendent for over thirty years. More recently Brian served for twelve years as a member of the Edmonton Assessment Review Board including five years as the Chair of that Board. Brian has extensive experience in hearing complaints, chairing tribunals and making and writing decisions in a quasi-judicial setting.

Revised Attachment 2

Emily Reeves

Subdivision and Development Appeal Board

Emily Reeves received her degree in Geomatics Engineering from the University of Calgary and has since worked in land surveying. As an advocate for lifelong learning she is currently taking Applied Land Use Planning courses through the University of Alberta, and enjoys being an active and informed member of her community.
