

City Enabled Indigenous Employment Support

The following organizations receive City of Edmonton funding for the delivery of specific programs and services. While City of Edmonton funding is not specifically allocated to employment programs and services, there may be a relationship between the funded programs and employment supports offered.

Name of Organization	Support Provided
Bent Arrow Traditional Healing Society	Four employment programs <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Journey to Success</li> <li>• Transition to Success</li> <li>• Employment Resource Center</li> <li>• Working Warriors</li> </ul>
Institute of Advancement of Aboriginal Women	Supports and services include individual training purchases, self-employment benefits, group training, special projects, and on-the-job training.
Bissell Centre	Workforce Development Program This year, Bissell will begin offering a new training program for Bissell Centre participants called Workforce Development.
Boyle Street Community Services	Boyle Street Ventures Inc. (BSV Inc.) is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Boyle Street Community Services. BSV Inc. was established to tackle the challenge of poverty alleviation from a different angle – using a business approach.
Dickinsfield Amity House	Help to prepare resumes, provide information about employment opportunities, fax resumes to employers and provide referrals for clothing for job interviews.
Elizabeth Fry Society of Northern Alberta	Financial literacy program Employment program