New Appointee Biographies:

Raj Subramanian - Association of Professional Engineers and Geoscientists of Alberta (APEGA) Representative

Raj Subramanian is an experienced project manager and technical leader with over 22 years of experience in design development and construction of municipal infrastructure. He has extensive experience in leading and managing multi-discipline teams to deliver complex technical projects. Raj has worked with several municipal governments across Alberta, including the City of Edmonton to provide engineering services for their municipal infrastructure projects and has gained an in-depth understanding of municipal land use bylaws, area structure plans and future land use planning and associated infrastructure needs.

Raj is also an active volunteer with APEGA, having served on the APEGA Edmonton Branch executive and supported science outreach and the Science Olympics over the past several years.

Karen Oxley - Alberta Professional Planners Institute (APPI) Representative

Karen Oxley is a generalist land use, municipal and school board planner with experience working in some of Edmonton's smaller urban and rural municipalities since 2010. Karen Oxley is a dedicated urbanist with a passion for community building. She is specifically interested in exploring how urban design can support age friendly communities and build community capacity.

Karen holds a Bachelor of Urban and Regional Planning degree from Ryerson University, now the University of Toronto Metropolitan University. Karen Oxley has been a Registered Professional Planner (RPP), and Member Canadian Institute of Planners (MCIP) with the Canadian Institute of Planners since 2012.
