

Annual Complaints by Location

People can provide the City of Edmonton with feedback related to speeding through 311, calls, and emails. Some complaints are specific and refer to an exact address (ie: directly in front of a home) while others refer to an area (ie: a stretch of road or a neighbourhood). If an enforcement site is established, it may not be perfectly matched to complaint locations, due to the variabilities in how locations are reported and other limitations. As a result, complaints reported by site don't always provide the full context of public concern relating to speeding in that area.
