Below is a brief public introduction as provided by new Appointees:

Tye Babb	Edmonton Combative Sports Commission
Tye Babb is a Certified Exercise Physiologist with the Canadian Society for Exercise Physiology, currently employed in healthcare as an Exercise Specialist at the Edmonton Southside Primary Care Network (PCN). With two undergraduate degrees (BSc with specialization in Psychology & BPE with concentration in Active Living, Health and Well-Being), Mr. Babb believes in using evidence-based practices to support the individuals he works with. Born and raised in Edmonton, Tye has competed as an athlete at local and national levels, and advocates for all sport as a volunteer Director with the Edmonton Sport Council. With a strong interest in Martial Arts, he hopes to add his experience to the Commission to advocate for the athletes competing as well as ensure safe practices at the events held within the city.
Trevor Kelly	Edmonton Combative Sports Commission
Trevor Kelly was born and raised in Fort McMurray but has called Edmonton his home since 2003. Trevor attended the University of Alberta where he obtained degrees first in Science and then Law. Trevor has been practicing law in Edmonton and the surrounding area for the past eight years. Trevor is married and has a three year old son and a one year old daughter. In his spare time he enjoys taking his family for outings to the various public attractions across Edmonton including the Valley Zoo, Fort Edmonton Park, the Muttart Conservatory and Telus World of Science. Trevor has had a keen interest in combative sports for a number of years and would like to see the sports prosper and grow within the community in the years to come.

Daniel Spanu	Edmonton Combative Sports Commission
Daniel is an established public administration professional with over 13 years of proven expertise in strategic services including project management; strategic and business planning; performance measurement and program evaluation; process design and implementation; policy analysis and research; stakeholder engagement; and managing in a complex and changing public sector environment. He began his public service career with the Government of Canada in Ottawa and has expanded on his knowledge as a policy, analysis, and planning expert since transferring to Edmonton. His experience within the federal government in Edmonton at Western Economic Development and Industry Canada has focused on stakeholder relations, strategic planning and reporting, special initiatives, and research. He has continued to build upon this skill set in a municipal setting in a current substantive position within the Edmonton Police Service. In this position, Daniel has successfully advanced several projects that would directly relate to his success with the Edmonton Combative Sports Commission. On a personal note, Daniel's hobbies are playing guitar, helping his kids develop their musical skills on cello and piano, and of course watching combative sports!
