Apr-18	Asked what types of women's records archives are looking for. Her family is considering donating. I provided her with advice.	via Historian Laureate Facebook message
Apr-18	Requested my participation in an Edmonton Weavers' Guild exhibit at the Alberta Crafts Council. I declined participation, but provided advice on archival sources and contacts for fibre artists in the arts community.	via Historian Laureate Facebook message
Apr-18	Asked about locating information about the women who helped to found the St. Albert Public Library. I provided him with advice on archival sources.	via Historian Laureate email
Apr-18	Asked about donating his mother's papers to an archives. I gave him information about contacts and collecting mandates of the City of Edmonton Archives and the Provincial Archives of Alberta.	via telephone call to Sonia Caligiuri, forwarded to me
Apr-18	Asked me for advice on a women's oral history project that she is working on. I provided information about sources for conducting oral histories and granting sources.	via Historian Laureate email
Apr-18	Asked if I would be interested in interviewing a man with a historic sewing-machine collection. I declined but suggested she may be able to find someone interested in the project through the Edmonton Heritage Network's Practitioners' Database. I also recommended that she contact Human History Curator Julia Petrov at the Royal Alberta Museum.	via my personal email
Apr-18	Asked me about donating a women's collections of papers and photos that she had accessed while writing the Bonnie Doon Community League History Book. I advised her to contact the City Archives about donating the papers and suggested that she ask her other book contributors if they might be interested in doing the same.	via Historian Laureate email
Apr-18	Informed me of his mother's records in the University of Alberta Archives in case I wished to access them for any projects. His mother, Elizabeth Sterling Haynes, was an important figure in the Alberta theatre community. I thanked him for the information.	via my personal email
Apr-18	Asked if I would MC the Edmonton Regional Heritage Fair on May 5, 2018. I accepted.
Apr-18	Suggested several potential projects for my participation: 1. awareness and preservation of the Alberta Women's Memory Project 2. awareness and preservation of the database of stories hosted by the Edmonton Public Library. 3. Sponsor a writing bee with Edmonton authors and storytellers. I responded that I would bring awareness to the first two whenever possible, and declined the third suggestion, but said that I would keep it in mind if I come across anyone during my term who might be interested in a project like this.	via personal Facebook Messenger
Apr-18	Asked if I knew about any lynchings or hangings that had taken place in Edmonton. I said that the KKK had been active in Edmonton but there were no lynchings that I was aware of. I suggested that she contact the City and Provincial Archives, and in particular she could research the Provincial Archives court records.	via personal Facebook Messenger
Apr-18	Suggested that because funding for the Edmonton City as Museum project has not been continued, could the stories be archived and preserved. I said that I would bring this forward to the EHC and EHB. (I brought this forward at the May meetings of both boards)	via personal Facebook Messenger
Apr-18	Asked about donating his mother's papers to an archives. I provided information about contacting the City of Edmonton Archives and the Provincial Archives of Alberta and informed her about their collecting mandates.	via Historian Laureate email
Apr-18	She is an artist whose paintings are based on early farming stories. She asked how she might be able to become involved in my women's history initiative with her artworks. I thanked her and said that I was concentrating on Edmonton women's stories, but that I would let her know if any opportunities arose.	via my personal email

May-18	Contacted me for an interview about the LRT's "Future Station" for an Avenue Magazine article. I said that was not my area of expertise, but gave him the name of the AGA curator who had curated an exhibit around the concept of Future Station. I also forwarded his email to Dan Rose.	via Historian Laureate email
May-18	Requested my assistance re: awareness of the west LRT plan for demolition of historic houses and trees. I recommended that she post this on the Heritage Forward Facebook page and I forwarded her email to Dan Rose.	via Historian Laureate email
May-18	Asked for advice on donating family records associated with the Charles Camsell Hospital. I recommended that he contact both the City of Edmonton Archives and the Provincial Archives of Alberta since both institutions have Charles Camsell Hospital records in their holdings.	via Historian Laureate email
May-18	He is looking for a museum where he could donate three totem poles. The totems had been commissioned from West coast First Nations carver Ellen Neel for Westmount Shopping Mall when it opened in 1955. He rescued them from being thrown out. I recommended some museums, contacts and granting sources.	via my personal email.
May-18	Asked for advice on behalf of her neighbours, Dennis and Ruth Vriend, who are pioneers in organic farming, re: donating their records to an archives. I recommended that they contact the Provincial Archives of Alberta.	via Historian Laureate email
